RESUMES FIGHT ON TRUST BILL REPORT

Senator Reed Conducts His "One-Man Filibuster" to Restore Bill's Teeth.

Urged by telegrams from his State to restore teeth to the Clayton bill, Senator Reed, of Missouri, continued to wage war on the conference report on this measure today.

Senator Reed's attack worries Democratic leaders. Although they say the report will be adopted, they fear the speech of the Missouri Senator will give the party embarrassment.

When the Senate met this morning, Senator Reed held the floor for five hours yesterday, resumed.

Though the fight of Senator Reed has been called a "one-man filibuster," there are a number of Senators backing him, including Borah, Nelson, Norris, Vandaman, and others.

Senator Reed read a telegram he had received from John C. Roberts, a prominent citizen of St. Louis. It was as follows:

"Your stand on the Clayton bill is most gratifying. I trust they will put the teeth back into it and fight to a finish. It seems the Democrats have forgotten their Baltimore platform."

The international shoe company, of St. Louis, also wires Senator Reed encouragement.

Mystery in Mistake Of 2 Masked Bandits

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Sept. 28.—"Throw up your hands, Walker," said one of two masked men who held up J. R. MacComb, postmaster of Great Barrington, and his wife last night in their automobile.

"I'm not Walker," said MacComb. He had to prove it under the leveled gun. The bandit mind was so intent to rob and finally let him go. It is believed they were waiting William H. Walker, a wealthy New Yorker, who has a country estate at Brookside.

"General" Jones Leads Suffrage Pilgrimage

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—"General" Rosalie Jones will be commander-in-chief of a woman suffrage pilgrimage to start at two points at the end of Long Island on Friday, joining at Jamaica on Monday evening, when a large open air meeting will be held. Proceeding from Jamaica the suffragettes will go by automobile to Rochester, for the State convention of New York women suffragists.

One action will start from Amagansett, and the other from Greenport, on the north shore.

$50,000 Blackmail of James J. Hill Halted

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 28.—Charles Howell, thirty-one, of Glen Flora, Minn., has confessed to the police that he had prepared through a series of five letters to blackmail James J. Hill, the St. Paul and Northern Pacific Railroad president, for $50,000. The letters, which were found on Howell, are as follows:

"I have your bills, without markings of any kind. Put bills in a leather case. Ride with friend N. H. Hill on the night South Shore road train. Drop $50,000 when you see white flag."

Lauterbach Reported Cleared by N. Y. Bar

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Bar Association, according to a report last night, will not take any action in the case of Edward Lauterbach and David Lamm, the "Wolf of Wall Street." No evidence, it was said, could be marshaled to show unprofessional conduct on the part of Mr. Lauterbach.

Lamm testified before a Senate committee that he had impersonated Lauterbach in telephone talks with Wall Street financiers for the purpose of restoring Mr. Lauterbach to the esteem of those interested in the case.

Washington Bankers Meet To Plan for "Gold Pool"

The Washington Clearing House Association is meeting this afternoon to determine the part this city shall take in raising $500,000 as the city's share of the $1,000,000 gold pool now being established to pay off a portion of the American balance of trade deficit.

Bankers say that there will be no trouble to induce the twelve national banks and the five trust companies to subscribe this sum.

Only one-fourth of the sum apportioned will be called at the outset.

Knights of Garter May Expel Kaiser

German Emperor Due to Lose Honor Conferred Upon Him by Queen Victoria—Public Demand Strong for Bestowal Upon King Albert of Belgium.

By P. M. SARL.

LONDON, Sept. 19 (by mail to New York).—The Kaiser will lose his garter. Such is the semi-official announcement made here today.

The German ruler may be able to purchase hose supporters in Berlin, but English public opinion will not permit him to retain the dainty jeweled ribbon bestowed upon him by Queen Victoria, and which carries with it membership in the oldest and most exclusive order of chivalry in the world—the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

There is no doubt that the matter of removing the banners of the Kaiser and the Crown Prince from the Garter Chapel in Windsor Castle is being carefully considered by officials.

There is no precedent, however, for expelling a foreign monarch. High treason is the only crime that can justify expulsion, and the leading authorities agree that it may be difficult to try one monarch for treason to another. The last member of the order to be ignominiously expelled was John, Duke of Ormnd, a Jacobite nobleman, who saved his neck by fleeing the country.

GIVE GROUNDS FOR EXPULSION.

Those who insist that the black-eagled banner in the Garter Chapel must be torn down as unworthy of a place among the historic emblems hanging over the knights' pews, contend that the Germans' actions at Louvain, Tremonde, Dinant and elsewhere, give ample grounds for expulsion. They declare the Kaiser is surely guilty of treason to the lofty ideals of chivalry on which the order is based. They insist that the noblest blood of England, to say nothing of other European monarchs, who are members of the order, cannot continue to regard as a "brother, lover and fellow" according to the rules of the order a ruler with whom they are at war, and who, they hold, has broken the laws of knightlyhood.

Prince Henry of Prussia and the young Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha will almost certainly share the Kaiser's fate. Neither can Emperor Franz Josef well be allowed to keep his garter.

Camden Goes Home.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY OF WOMEN'S GOWNS

New Styles Are Now Being Shown at the Establishment of Leverton &amp; Co.

One of the most attractive displays of the new styles in outer garments for women is now on at the store of J. L. Leverton & Co., in G street. Five floors, and each one devoted to one line of goods, constitute the extent of this house.

Models of every kind of silk dress are being shown, there being now in stock 2,200, the aim of the firm being to keep up this stock to the 1,000 mark as long as the season lasts.

The fourth floor is devoted to millinery, and judging from the variety of styles which are found there, the American woman need have little fear that she will be deprived of distinctive fashions on account of the deadlock of Paris styles.

Upon the variety of hats will depend the success of many a millinery establishment this fall, for the difference in head sizes is matter of even greater importance than distinctive patterns. The display at Leverton's is large enough to admit the fitting of any number of different sized heads.

Like all first-class establishments, this department offers not only copies of French hats, real French capes themselves, garnered before the outbreak, Fifth avenue creations and imitations, but it does much each year in the way of absolutely original models conceived, cut, made, and finished from the workrooms of the establishment itself.

Smart French tricorn, with silver braid and plaid, came from the other side, but chic designs, no less distinctive, were "Made in America." The shape of the face dictates this year the cut of the hat, said the buyer of this department today. "Careful attention to the lines and contour of the face will make the small velvet hat either a success or a failure."

The store sells furs to a limited extent. The fur line is just being installed, and though it is small it is claimed that they are strongly guaranteed and sold at prices that catch the eye of the purchaser with a moderate purse.

LADIES' HAIRDRESSING IN LONDON AND PARIS

By CONSTANCE

When I was in Europe this year I found both cities so thickly dotted with hairdressing parlors and hair goods stores that I wondered if the women ever had time for anything but care of the hair. Personally I was chiefly interested in finding a really good shampoo, and I found that they never use makeshifts but always some item made for shampooing only, and I was happy surprised when several inquiries each brought the suggestion that our own American-made canthrox shampoo is best. They like it because in addition to being perfectly safe and making the hair free from all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, it is so simple to get canthrox from any drugist and just dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, keeping you will then have a preparation that makes the hair not only clean, but so fluffy that it appears very heavy. Canthrox stimulates the scalp to healthy action, making the head feel good, and the hair look good.
